

Child Hurt Seriously In Fall From Porch

Gregory Parrish, 1½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollyn Parrish, 512 33rd Street, was injured seriously today when he fell 25 feet from a back porch at his home.

The child suffered a brain concussion, according to attendants at Permanente Hospital, and a brain specialist was called in to aid him.

The small boy toddled onto the porch while his mother was in the kitchen, caring for a younger child, and a great-grandmother, Mrs. Charlotta Van Oorshot, was hanging clothes on the porch. Mrs. Van Oorshot was unaware of the boy's presence on the second story porch.

The child landed on the sidewalk below.
